Celebrating the important role of parents in student achievement

Cheryl Frye and Jim Lembo Delaware Community School

Cheryl and Jim are on Delaware Community School's Building Leadership Team and PTA – Jim as PTA treasurer in 2008-09 and 2009-10. He also is active with the Albany City Council PTA, serving as vice president in 2009-10. Cheryl was instrumental in starting the after-school Reading and Writing Program – Club RAW – during the 2008-09 school year. Cheryl and Jim also are active members of the Dual Language Parent Committee at Delaware and highly supportive of the entire school community.

“A strong sense of individual identity and integration within the community is very important. Every person has unique skills that can benefit others. When such efforts are combined, as was the case with the development of the after-school reading program at Delaware Community School, the benefits to many can be tremendous.”
