Celebrating the important role of parents in student achievement

Wendy Milligan

New Scotland Elementary School

“New Scotland Elementary School is a wonderful neighborhood school, and our family is happy to be a part of this community. Volunteering has allowed me to see just how important community involvement is in educating all children. The generosity of New Scotland Avenue businesses helps to fund programs for our students and to make school activities successful.

“The commitment of the entire staff, in terms of time and energy, makes the school a welcoming place for adults and children. Most importantly, volunteering has given our family the opportunity to connect with other families within the school community.”
