

New polling locations set for May 20 school budget vote

With a focus on enhancing accessibility for voters throughout the community, the City School District of Albany has approved new voting locations in eight of the city's 15 wards.

The Board of Education approved the new locations at its March 4 meeting. The decision followed the work of an ad hoc committee that began studying the issue in 2007. The committee presented information and statistics about voting trends to the Albany Common Council and requested suggestions for changing the boundaries of voting locations to accommodate voters.

Voting for the 2008-09 school budget will be Tuesday, May 20. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. To accommodate increased numbers of voters in the new locations, additional inspectors and/or voting machines will be assigned to those locations.

Polling sites for the school district budget vote are different from the polling locations used for city-wide elections. Follow the chart below to learn where you vote on the school budget (green boxes indicate where changes have been made), or use our searchable online street directory.
